WE WISH YOU A HAPPY NEW YEAR

It is a time honored custom to make resolutions at the beginning of each new year.

What better resolutions could one make than to make yourself financially independent?

We have helped several start in the Savings Club and other departments and as the old saying goes, "It is not what an individual earns but what he saves that makes his worth."

We will be glad to help you accumulate that worth.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

I wish you a happy, healthy and prosperous year and that the blessings of God be with you on every day and that He preserve you of evil influence of wind and weather and that you will not be disturbed by war but enjoy peace. The blood thirsty European butchers are doing us harm in many ways on land and sea, besides roaming all over our country seeking to injure us and catch a smile from their superior devil or gain a penny and even implore God's assistance in their doings. Who of you want to go in their heavenly? Indeed I don't. Let us ask God for a better sentiment and live up to his will. I wish the grasshoppers would come thick enough to gobble up all the unloyal to our government and make a clean sweep of it. Please, accept my sincere best wishes to you all.

Dictagrams

The philosopher who writes these paragraphs recently came in contact with another colossal mind, of equal magnitude and equally peculiar. It may be that succeeding paragraphs will be dictated thereby.

Two things are absolutely certain—death, and the fact that nobody takes anything away with him.

You may be smart enough to get ahead of the butcher, the baker and candlestick maker, but you can't run a bill with the devil and beat him out of it.

Old Si takes note that when folks eat cranberries they always have something extra good to go along with the berries. It is well.

They say that the gripe is not to be sneezed at, but how is the poor victim to help himself.

Speaking of films, the shadow never quite equals the substance, although the shadow may be both beautiful and useful, because there is no appeal to the ear. Similarly, canned music cannot equal the original, because there is no appeal to the eye. In the one case we cannot hear the actor and in the other we cannot see the performer. Each of the senses, seeing and hearing, needs the help of the other to give the highest degree of satisfaction.

If people still heed the old admonition, "stuff a cold and start a fever," there must be a lot of heavy feeding going on just now, judging by the prevalence of colds and gripe.

It may be too late to advise people to do their Christmas shopping early, but it is not too late to give an example of what may happen during the rush and hurry of the Christmas mails. A Christmas letter was mailed at Portland, Michigan, December 22, and was rather plainly addressed to "Wilson, Kansas." It was mislaid at Wilmore, Kans. where it arrived on Christmas day. From Wilmore it was "Mislaid to Wetmore, Kans." arrived on the 27th. At Wetmore, the clerk decided that the address was "Probably Wilson," where it arrived on the 28th, instead of the 24th, as intended, and finally caught the addressee at Wa-Keeney on the 29th.

But we should not be too severe in criticism of the mail clerks. It is very easy for us to read the name and address of a friend whose location is already well to us. It is all suggested by prior information. It is different with the clerk. He must be governed by what he sees suddenly thrust before him and he has no time to decipher riddles.

MARKET REPORT

Kansas City Stock Yards, Dec. 28, '15.—Cattle receipts today were 7000 head, light for Tuesday, and it was expected at the start that the favorable situation for sellers which has existed for the last week would hold good. But the market proved to be barely capable of holding steady, and late sales of beef steers were 10 to 15 cents lower than yesterday. The best cattle here sold at $8. to $8.25, yearlings at $8, bulk of the beef steers at $7 to $7.75 a few up to $8.75, heifers mostly $6.25 to $7, fancy heifers scarce, but quotable at $8 to $9, bulls $4.75 to $5.60, veal calves $8 to $9. Stockers and feeders are a shade stronger this week, most of the stock steers at $5.85 to $6.80, some choice feeders weighing 1100 lbs at $8.10 this week, a few good feeders around $7.50, plain feeders $6.25 to $7. Beef cattle have had a healthy tone for a week, which has revived the feeder demand, and the market has been gradually getting on a basis satisfactory to feeders. Good feeding weather so far this season has also helped to make results favorable. The weakness today, in the face of a very light total for the week, makes the prospect for the January beef cattle market somewhat of a question again.

Hog receipts were light today 10,000 head, and the market opened to 10 higher, top $6.75. Weakness developed before the close, and bulk of sales ranged from $6.30 to $6.70, 5 to 10 cents above yesterday. Total hog supply at Kansas City for 1915 will be 2,525,000 head, an increase of 250,000 over 1914. Since the first of December packers have shipped many trains of hogs from St. Paul and Sioux City to Kansas City for slaughter, because of the large capacity of the plants here, which has not been taxed by the winter supply of hogs here so far this season.

Lambs and yearlings sold a quarter higher today, following similar advance yesterday. Choice Colorado fed lambs sold at $9.25 to $9.40, Kansas fed Western $9.35, Colorado fed yearlings at $8.25, the latter weighing 85 lbs. Sheep do not show such a sensational advance, though they are higher, choice ewes quotable at $6 to $6.25, wethers $6.35 to $6.60. Not many feeding lambs are available, although some are sorted out of shipment of fed stock, at $8 to $8.40. Receipts are moderate, 6000 yesterday, and the same number today.
